The Hanger

Scenic beauty and wildlife is why we venture outdoors. However, coexisting with nature presents great challenges of keeping our food and scented items away from predators. It is commonly known to be time consuming and at times frustrating. Campers and backpackers sleeping outdoors find it necessary to suspend their food up, out of reach of bears and other predators. We find it necessary to use trees to suspend these items, but this can be quite a challenge! Now after years of trial an error a precise balance of 65' of 405 lbs rated cord, 6000 lbs rated webbing, 1000 denier Cordura fabric, and solid brass rings comes "The Hanger". Appropriately named is extremely durable and strong. This multi purpose utility tool can be thrown 65 feet under its own weight without the cord ever touching the ground. If you ever tried hanging your old method of string or heavy rope attached to a branch or rock, only become entangled with the surrounding shrubs, brush and debris. Another unique feature of the hanger is a day glow and light reflective attachment for low light and dark conditions.
